

Is it true that French culinary creations are always
the best and most expensive?

Yes and no.

Since 1908, La Cornue has embodied the centuries-old tradition of French culinary excellence. And with the new CornuFé line, becoming a part of that great tradition no longer demands great expense. Boasting five burners and two ovens, every CornuFé is designed to provide La Cornue's uncompromising dedication to gastronomic perfection, for a more modest budget. Plus, with the expertise of premier distributor Purcell Murray, the CornuFé you want will be available at a location near you – no matter where you are.
